

From Reverend Janet

Dear Friends,

At the time of writing this, it is exactly 100 years ago that Captain Robert Falcon Scott and his beleaguered team of explorers stood at the South Pole, disappointed that their rivals, the Norwegians, had successfully reached the Pole some weeks previously. Much has been written about Scott's planning and preparation for the trek. Opinion today is that his choices were somewhat reckless at times in his endeavours to win through. One example of this may have been the decision to forgo the use of dogs. Another may have been his decision that five of the men were to go to the pole, instead of the original plan, which was that four should go. This last minute change of plan may have compromised the men's chances of survival. At the time of his death, Captain Scott was proclaimed as a dashing explorer and hero, as were his men.

One such hero, Captain Oates famously sacrificed himself to give his mates a better chance. Badly injured with frostbite and therefore slowing down the pace of the march to the point of jeopardy, he uttered these famous words, "I am just going outside, and I may be some time", and then left the tent, never to be seen again. It was his 32nd birthday that day as well. In spite of this sacrifice, which did indeed improve the chances of the others, the expedition ended with the deaths of all concerned.*

"No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends." These are words of Jesus from the Gospel of John. These are fitting words to consider as we begin Lent: our preparation for the festival of Easter: the crucifixion and resurrection of our Lord Jesus being the glorious outcome of the one who did indeed, "lay down his life for his friends"..

This year there will be three Lent courses run in different styles. I will be leading one entitled "Gardening with God in Mind."

Many of our garden and wild plants have folklore concerning their growth and use. This naming and use is often Christian in origin. Theological reflections and prayers can be gained from any number of plants. For example, chamomile, often grown as a lawn, only releases its scent when trodden upon

If you are interested, look out for posters later in the month for this course, and those run by other Ministers in the Deepings. There will be a list to sign up in each Church.

With all good wishes,

Revd Janet

* The Oates family owned Gestingthorpe Hall in north Essex for many years. This was the large Hall opposite one of the Churches in my last Benefice and place of ministry. Naturally the village remains very interested in all artifacts and programmes relating to the Scott expedition, with anniversary events planned this year.

In this Month's Priory News ...

Dear All

Have you noticed how the days are already lengthening? There are signs too of bulbs beginning to come to life even though it is still too early for spring.

As we see turmoil in the world's weather patterns the debate about global warming still rumbles on, just as it did last year when we suffered a much harsher winter. It is certainly true that Lent and Easter will be with us earlier this year, whether or not there are any spring flowers around to greet them and whether or not the local near-drought conditions continue, but who knows what sort of a summer we can expect?

This month's magazine includes a thought-provoking message from the Bishop of Grantham. There are also answers to last month's garden quiz – how well did you do? Now that the 'festive season' is over, may we make a plea for contributions to Priory News? We are always pleased to receive articles of local interest, some of which appear this month, including further news about the buses. Short reminiscences or poems would be welcome as well as more quizzes and photographs. Once again our 'regular', Margaret, demonstrates a happy knack of including another of my favourite recipes and a very welcome one for the time of year.

Finally, it was a little disappointing that hardly anyone noticed that the altar cloth on last month's front cover was the wrong colour for the season of the year!

With all good wishes. Caroline and John.

Cooking with Margaret

Carrot and Orange Soup

Ingredients:

2 Medium onions
450g Carrots
450ml Chicken stock
1 Orange, finely grated, rind and juice
1 tablespoon Granulated sugar
150ml Double cream
Salt & black pepper to taste
1 tablespoon chopped parsley for garnish

Method:

1. Peel and finely chop the onions and carrots and cook in the stock until just tender.
2. Blend in a liquidiser or food processor or pass through a sieve until smooth.
3. Add remaining ingredients. Season to taste.
4. Reheat gently but do not boil otherwise the soup will curdle.
5. Garnish with the parsley just before serving

News from the Tower

What an excellent start to the New Year.

The ringers held their annual dinner at The Stage in Market Deeping on Friday 13th, when 25 ringers and friends met and had an enjoyable evening.

We trust Janet has settled in Deeping St James and is finding the local community helpful in her new role.

On 14 January Alistair arranged for quarter peals to be rung at four churches in our area. The first being at St Benedict's Glington, the next at St Peter's in Maxey with lunch being taken at West Deeping. This was followed by ringing at St John The Baptist at Barnack then finally to St Martin's in St Martins Without.

Our AGM this year is set for Friday February 10th at 19.30 in the ringing chamber.

Carols on the Doorstep

WELL DONE

What a pleasure it was to have a visit from the junior Church singers together with their helpers just prior to Christmas to sing carols on the doorstep. May they long continue the singing.

A message from the Flower Ladies

Christine and I were very pleased with all the hard work done by the team in decorating the church at Christmas and we are also grateful for the financial support which enabled us to provide the flowers. Although we have many willing flower arrangers, we can always do with more. If you can help, just contact Christine or me. Thank you and a Happy New Year.

Making a difference to DSJ!

Since 2009, Deeping St James Parish Council have been paying tribute to those that make an outstanding difference in our community. The Council have honoured Sheila Miller, swimming instructor of considerable note at the Deepings Leisure centre taught generations of our children to swim, Joshua Tate who, at 15 years old was leading the Jigsaw Cub for younger children at the Open Door Church, veteran Guide leader, Lesley Dennis and Alex Donnelly for her work at the Deepings Youth Centre who later went on to represent the community at the Lincolnshire Youth Council. Last year, Brian Baxter MBE received the accolade for his voluntary work throughout the community with Tom Waterhouse winning the Young Persons Award for his outstanding work at the Deepings Youth Centre. Deepings Round Table won the Group category last year for their sterling work in the transformation of a piece of land at Old Priory Farm following on from previous winners, The Deeping Mens Group for their unstinting charitable work and the Deepings Gang Show who have entertained the village with gusto for in excess of twenty years.

This year, the Awards ceremony will take place at the New Conference Centre at the Deepings School at the Annual Parish Meeting on May 8th - with Awards to be presented by twice BDO World Champion 2010 & 2011, Martin Adams.

The Parish Council welcome your nominations for the person, young person and group to most make a difference - the only qualfier being that they live or have lived in Deeping St James in the last year or the organisation is based or operates here. Please contact the Clerk on 343266 or email clerk.dsjpgc@btconnect.com. Closing date for nominations is 14th April.

Judy Stevens

Social Committee

On Sunday 8th January the traditional Blessing of the Plough and Renewal of Baptismal Vows took place in the Priory Church.

This was followed by a supper of potted beef, various cheeses, home made bread and a choice of puddings made by Margaret. Those attending were entertained by “Tinder Box” a group who sang a medley of show songs, some of which involved audience participation.

An Anonymous Prayer....

During our Week of Guided Prayer last year, one or two prayers were placed in the small box at the back of the Church. This lovely prayer was written anonymously.

“Father, give each of us Your inner peace, which calms, restores and reassures. You know our fears, Lord. Help us to face them, knowing You are always with us. You share our disappointments and frustrations. Help us to overcome them and move forward.

You understand our hopes and aspirations. Teach us to accept our limitations, whilst rejoicing in the gifts You have given us.

Strengthen our faith, that we may truly believe all things are possible with You.

In Christ’s name, Amen”

SHOPPING DOWN MEMORY LANE (1)

Anne Smart

I was first married in 1956. My husband and I used to shop for our groceries on a Saturday afternoon – parking our car outside Liptons in the High Street of the market town where we lived.

One Saturday, to our consternation, the inside of the shop had changed. The familiar counters had gone to be replaced with tall shelves – all the goods on display – and stacks of baskets just inside the door by a counter and till. The manager (in his smart white coat) saw we looked puzzled and explained (proudly) that the shop had gone `self service`.

We were still reluctant as he pressed a wire basket into our hands and, seeing this, he proceeded to walk around the shelves with us (he knew what we bought each week – a sort-of walking computer!) and take down the items we wanted and place them in the basket for us.

That done, he guided us to the till where he proceeded solemnly to unpack the basket and ring up each item before placing the goods in a brown paper sack. We paid. He then picked up the paper sack, opened the shop door with one hand and carried the groceries out to our car where he placed them in the boot.

When we were alone I expressed my pleasure at the excellent service we had received – my husband replied that he didn't expect many of his customers spent £5.00 in one shop!!!

Happy days eh?

Some news from the Parish Council.

Commuter Connections.....

Some good news at last regarding bus services in Deeping St James.

Since the withdrawal of the Stagecoach service in 2011, the parish council have been looking into alternative solutions. After discussions with Delaine's, they provided some additional services that partly filled the gap. We also set up a trial service whereby passengers were picked up by mini-cab and taken to Horsegate to connect with the Delaine 102 service. It was hoped this might attract sufficient users for a minibus to be employed and to be self-funding. Unfortunately numbers remained low and the council felt it was not viable to subsidise this for so few users long term.

We continued to explore other options and have been in close contact with Lincs County Council regarding subsidised services.

In response to some of our publicity on this matter, local resident Tim Stevens put forward a suggestion for a "bus interchange" which would have enabled commuters to easily connect from the Shaws 100 service onto the Delaine 102. The Parish council saw this as a good solution and pursued it with LCC and Shaws. Following some discussions with all parties involved, an alternative solution that works well and does not require infrastructure changes (bus stops and pedestrian crossings) has been agreed. This will improve some connections (reduced waiting times) and create others.

We are happy to report that the revised Shaws timetable including the additional services should be operational soon and will allow people travelling to and from work/school from the parts of Deeping St James served by the Shaws 100 service to connect with the Delaine service in Market Deeping, Market Place. They may also provide an additional service that would suit shoppers.

This should provide a journey time from Deeping St James (stops at: Park Estate, Exeter Close, Broadgate Lane and Church Gate) into Queensgate of around 30 minutes in total. The additional fare is expected to be 60p return for the Shaws connection service.

Even if you do not need to commute from DSJ into Peterborough or Bourne, 60p for a return journey within the Deepings seems like a useful service for local residents.

Even if you have a car, why not consider trying the bus? Please remember these services do need to be used to remain viable.

As soon as the revised timetable is available we will publicise it. In the meantime, you can view the current timetables for the Delaine and Shaws services at:
www.lincsbus.info

Preparation for Lent

There will be a number of Lent courses this year in the Deepings. In particular, Revd Janet will be running a group in our own parish and Revd Philip Brent will be organising one at St Guthlac's Church. At the time of going to press further details were not available but please see the notices at the back of church or contact Revd Janet for further information.

A letter from the Bishop of Grantham

Dear friends,

For many years I have sat in the same seat on the Kop at Sheffield Wednesday and, during my time as a parish priest just up the road from the ground, I would be asked by many members of the Sunday school and youth club whether they could come to a game with me and my family. On many occasions, I would be sat with a group of seven or eight football mad youngsters and would get vicarious enjoyment from their excitement. On one such occasion, the match was going well! Sheffield Wednesday were winning, the crowd were singing and all seemed well in the world. Suddenly, the opposition equalised via the superbly struck volley of the opposing team's striker and I was surprised to see the young boy next to me, a young black boy of African extract, rise sharply to his feet and make his way to a steward. A few words were exchanged, and then a man sat just behind us was forcibly removed by a gaggle of stewards. Unbeknown to me, my young friend had heard a racist comment directed at the black striker who had scored the superb goal and decided he would act: I've not seen the ejected and dejected fan ever since. That young boy, now a strapping man with a first class honours degree in sports science and himself a successful cage-fighter, often reminds me to this day of that incident long ago.

In today's world, it all seems so antediluvian when we hear of such racist incidents but, sadly, we do not have to go too far to be reminded that, as proscribed and publically despised as racism now is, it still lurks just beneath the surface.

This reality has, both, come to light recently in the case of the Liverpool footballer Suarez and the subsequent racist barracking of an Oldham player by a Liverpool supporter and also in the intimate revelations about the nature of racism during the trial and conviction of the two men found guilty of Stephen Lawrence's murder. In both these cases, the institutions involved-a football club in one case and the police in the other-have taken all the right steps to try and ensure that such prejudiced behaviour is not systemic and inherent in them. However, the horrible truth is that, in the heat of competition or in the bravado of a deeply disturbed young person's hateful tirade, the evil of racism still lurks and it is not far from us all.

Such racism was not unknown to Jesus: we are told that he stood at the well with the Samaritan woman; a woman from a race despised by some simply because they chose to worship God in another Temple other than that in Jerusalem. Jesus cleverly extracts from this 'hated' foreigner the knowledge that he is the source of eternal life and the eagerly expected Messiah. On their return to the well, even Jesus' disciples join in the unconscious and implicit racism, being 'astonished' that he was speaking with her.

In William Shirer's seminal book on The Third Reich, one is struck by the matter of fact way in which the cremators for the killing fields of the concentration camps were ordered from the manufacturers: as simple as ordering a microwave for the kitchen. Such ordinariness combined with horror is rightly named 'the mundanity of evil'. My young friend in the football match was right to challenge that thoughtless and cruel barb by a fellow supporter for there must be link between these small, mundane, acts and the kind of racism that leads to violence and loss of life?

In the end, the real tragedy of racism is that it de-humanises those we parody and to whom we attach simplistic prejudices. It was the 'hated' foreign woman at the well who saw the deep mystery of Jesus and his divinity: when our eyes are clouded by colour, class or creed we fail to see and enjoy the true beauty of the person underneath.
