

Dear all,

This Sunday is lining up to be totally manic. My apologies for a short letter this time.

We have 2 baptisms – one in the main service, and one at 11.45. And we are without an organist, so yours truly is going to draw on his by now very rusty skills. I will be baptising, and Sonia will be presiding at the Communion.

In the evening, we will be cancelling our usual evening service, and instead joining Churches Together at St Guthlac's, Market Deeping. Various members of the local community will be sharing their experiences during the service.

 Churches Together in the Deepings
